

Some time ago there was a guy named Steve. He worked in one of the biggest corporations in the world. His Corporation was making a lot of toxic waste and air pollution. But one time when he went to his son's school he saw a project about air pollution and toxic waste. He realized that he is doing bad. After this situation he asked his boss about how much they were destroying the planet. His boss told him that they weren't making too much and he didn't have to worry. After he came back home he checked out on the internet how toxic waste is destroying our planet. He found a lot of foundations that are saving the Earth. He wanted to help so he started doing voluntary work. His boss saw him in a shirt with the logo of saving our planet. His boss got mad. The next day when Steve came to work his boss came to him and told him that he's fired. Steve came back home and got depressed. After a week his mom came to him and told him that he shouldn't give up. He stands up and tells his mother that she won't let Earth die. He started saving frogs and Fishes from Lakes, and after that he started his own organization about saving planet. He wanted his whole family and all his friends to support him. Firstly, when he got enough money he bought trees and planted them. Secondly, he went to his son's school and told everyone that they should save the planet. Then Christmas came and Santa Claus gave him a silver ring. This to the ring reminds him of when he was working in a company. He told the manager of this company they shouldn't destroy the world. He told him everything he knew about how they are destroying our planet. However the manager didn't want to listen to him so he came to the manager and forced him to reduce toxic waste and air pollution. By Steve's actions he saved the planet and became rich and famous. When he was 80 Christmas came and he ate a lot of gingerbread because it was on Earth thanks to him. Although he died, the whole World was really sad but it survived.
