

A group of seven people, six women and one man, are posing for a photo in front of the Seville Cathedral and its Giralda tower. The group consists of a man in a dark t-shirt and shorts on the far left, and a man with a beard and sunglasses crouching in the front center. Five women stand behind him, wearing various casual clothing like t-shirts, a striped shirt, and dresses. The background features the massive stone structure of the cathedral under a clear sky. A decorative metal railing is in the foreground.
